

BLUE FORCE GEAR ANNOUNCES EXCLUSIVE DEAL WITH VICKERS TACTICAL, INC.

Blue Force Gear, Inc. is proud to announce its exclusive arrangement to produce the Vickers Combat Applications Sling™. This new sling combines the exceptional operational experience of Larry Vickers with the superior materials and design talent of Blue Force Gear.

"I have used a quick adjustable two-point sling for nearly two decades. I am a big fan of the concept but felt it needed updating. After searching for a manufacturer to make a sling to my specs I was fortunate to have Ashley in one of my recent combat marksmanship classes. After seeing the quality of his line of Blue Force Gear slings I realized my search was over. The end result is the Vickers Combat Applications Sling; to say I am pleased with the result would be an understatement."

- Larry Vickers, Vickers Tactical, Inc.

The Vickers Combat Applications Sling™ incorporates features that Larry Vickers determined to be essential in a combat sling:

1. A versatile two-point design which allows for a variety of carry and shooting positions.
2. A quick adjustment capability to enable the shooter to quickly change the sling length and yet have no excess material to flap or tangle.
3. The ability for the shooter to use various attachment methods or hardware.
4. Superior materials and stitching.
5. Primary color: Coyote Brown (other colors available on request)

"Larry's experience allowed him to test literally any equipment or technique available in the spec ops arena - anything to improve his former Unit's capability to conduct selected special operations missions. He has seen A LOT of weapons-related gear over the years and we are extremely honored that he selected us to build his signature weapon sling."

- Ashley Burnsed, President of Blue Force Gear, Inc.

Formed in 2004, Blue Force Gear, Inc. specializes in superior weapon slings for Special Operations personnel by combining its innovative designs with superior materials. Its complete sling line includes modular/convertible slings, heat resistant slings for belt-fed weapons and bungee slings for breaching shotguns. All Blue Force Gear slings are made in the USA and are backed by a lifetime guarantee.

Larry Vickers is a retired career special operations soldier with 20-plus years of service to our country. A longtime 1st SFOD- Delta operational member, he was a key player in the small arms marksmanship expertise and weapons selection of that Unit. Considered one of the best combat marksmanship instructors in the U.S, he has become one of the most sought after instructors in the Worldwide Special Operations community.
